NEECOM Agenda for Day 1 - Thursday, June 1st , 2017

Morning Program:

8:00 Registration/Continental Breakfast

8:30 Annual Meeting and Opening Remarks

NEECOM President, Ira Keltz, Partners HealthCare System, Inc.

8:45 A Case Study in Leveraging EDI Documents

James Lewis, Founder & CEO, Enhanced Retail Solutions

There is a wealth of information in EDI documents. Yet most companies do not pull together all the information from these disparate documents.

As an example, e-commerce drop shipments are becoming more popular as retailers seek to lower their own costs and inventory. Retailers seek to improve customer satisfaction with on line orders by insuring all internal and drop shipments are delivered as ordered and on time. While all the order flow information is available on various EDI documents, there is no single application that ties all the information together for retailers and their suppliers.

This presentation will walk the audience through the process of creating a new application to combine EDI documents with other, internal information to synthesize this data. Dashboard/Artificial Intelligence capabilities can follow the data trail of documents and show any breakdowns in the process, highlighting inefficiencies in the system and providing real time analytics/feedback. This case study will reveal how companies can take advantage of rich data sets that already exist.

9:30 Supply Chain/B2B Shrinkage – The Most Common Ways That Your Products Are Disappearing in Transit and How to Stop It!

John Tabor, VP, National Retail Systems

The FBI has estimated that various forms of cargo theft have led to annual losses totaling 30 billion dollars a year. No shipper is immune to supply chain loss, this session will cover various methods of theft that are the leading causes of shrink and where it is occurring. Discussion will also take place on the most effective methods of preventing losses while goods are in transit.

10:15 Networking and Refreshment Break

10:30 Connected Commerce Through the Cloud – Achieving Operational Excellence in an Omni-Channel World
Jacques Vigneault, Chief Sales Officer, DI Central

The current distributed commerce environment -- with its improved digital shopping technologies and the widespread adoption of multiple commerce channels -- is forcing brands and retailers to redefine their traditional roles and restructure their operational models to accommodate direct engagement with customers. To thrive in this drop-ship commerce model, retailers now actively seek out and collaborate with numerous suppliers, sell across multiple channels and ship inventory directly from manufacturers instead of holding all inventory in costly warehouse management setups.

11:15 Every Department is Narcissistic and Speaks a Different Language
Joanne Dennison, The Guidance Counselor for Grown-Ups

Do you ever feel like you are banging your head against the wall trying to get people at your organization to hear your concerns over technology?

You're explaining things very clearly -Why can't they understand and see your Point of View? Sales is selling the dream, that you now have to service. "Up above" does not understand while you can't "just make a few small changes" overnight (if at all).

In a field that changes more frequently than daily, and cybersecurity is one of the biggest concerns in the world-- what can you do to be understood and heard in your own organization?

12:15 Lunch

Afternoon Program:

1:15 Everything You Wanted to Know about AS2 and More
Todd Gould, President, Loren Data Corp

AS2 has become the go-to EDI messaging standard for direct messaging between trading partners. An Internet RFC standard, AS2 combines encryption, digital signatures, public/private certificates, and automated confirmations. Powerful and low cost when it works, a major headache when things don't go so well. Together we will explore best practices from configuration to certificates.

Todd Gould is a recognized expert in AS2. With a talent for talking tech to normal people, Todd will help you evaluate the benefits of implementing AS2 in your organization and how to get it under control if you already use it.

2:00 Managing & Gaining Control of Retail Scorecards
Jerry Glinnen, Lifetime Brands

Thought you were done with Report Cards when you graduated from school? Think again if you're in the Supply Chain world. Retail scorecards are an important tool for understanding and managing supplier performance. Take a high level tour with us and see what we do with Retailer Report Cards at Lifetime Brands!

2:45 Networking and Refreshment Break

3:00 Tips to Help You Manage EDI Without Losing Your Sanity
Faith Lamprey, President, Aurora Technologies

Are the constantly changing demands and requirements of EDI driving you crazy? Does management not understand why it takes so long to bring up a new trading partner? Are you getting push back from accounting in renewing your annual software maintenance? Come to this session to learn some tips to help you with these issues. Some additional topics to be covered will include: The Joys (?) of AS2, interfacing with 3PLs. What to do if (when) your EDI software vendor is purchased, and why Dr. EDI recommends regular cleanses of your data.

3:45 Soft Skills That Drive Project Success
Eric Bloom, CEO, Manager Mechanics

An important similarity between traditional projects and Agile development projects are the types of soft/business skills needed to maximize project success. Scrum Master and Project Managers alike need specialized skills, such as leadership, negotiation, team building, influence and more. In addition to understanding stakeholder needs, Business Analysts and Product Owners must also have the ability to think strategically, resolve conflicts, facilitate change, communicate effectively with multiple professional disciplines, and perform other related activities. There are also various interpersonal communication, influence and problem solving skills that are of great value to team members of all professions.

This talk outlines the types of interpersonal and business skills needed to enhance team harmony, maximize productivity and facilitate the teamwork needed to ensure project success and enrich professional growth.

Key Take-Aways:

- Understanding of required soft/business skills by team member type/profession
- Insights into the transferable skills between Traditional Project and Agile Project leadership
- The roadmap of required soft/business skills needed to maximize project and professional success

4:30 Raffle/Refreshments/Networking/Adjourn
